CONFERENCE SUMMARY

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Please join us for this 25th annual conference which will provide anesthesiologists, nurse anesthetists, and anyone with an interest in the field of anesthesia with practical reviews and timely informative clinical updates on a variety of topics of current interest. Participants will be able to identify and discuss recent developments and trends through comprehensive didactic sessions. Faculty includes recognized experts in their fields, both on a national level and from the University of Vermont. The atmosphere will be friendly and informal and there will be ample time for questions and discussion with faculty and colleagues.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this conference, participants should be able to:

- Understand the latest information in enhanced recovery after cesarean section delivery.
- Updated knowledge in ACLS related to anesthesia providers.
- Conversant in regional anesthesia techniques for critically ill as well as healthy patients.
- Understand the current theories on neuromodulation in the treatment of chronic pain.
- Able to discuss the concepts and philosophy of "placebo anesthesia".
- Updated knowledge on current state of spinal cord protection in aortic surgical procedures.
- Updated knowledge on the latest data concerning operating room attire.
- Conversant in the latest theories on post-operative delirium and cognitive decline.
- Updated knowledge on vaping-related lung injury.
- Conversant in new concepts of myocardial injury after non-cardiac surgery.
- Understand new information about regional anesthesia from clinical registries.

NEW THIS YEAR! POSTER COMPETITION

This year, to celebrate the 25th year of its inception, we are holding a poster competition for students in anesthesiology including medical students, residents, SRNAs and AAs. This is an excellent opportunity for trainees to submit a clinical case or a research or a QI Project as a poster, to network, engage in stimulating conversations, and experience what this conference has to offer. Judging for the competition will take place after the last morning lecture on Saturday March 7, 2020.

Please visit the conference website for more details on submitting, requirements and who to contact for questions: go.uvm.edu/anesthesia2020
