Good morning,

CO2019:

Student Financial Services Online Exit Counseling Requirement:

Students who have utilized education loans may have already received an email prompt to complete exit loan counseling online, which will then remove the system generated “hold” on accounts.

Typically this prompt does not occur until March, however the email and holds occurred slightly prematurely. Please follow the steps in the email to resolve it, and it will be one less thing you need to do come March. As always, we will be offering in-person debt counseling sessions soon, but the online counseling is encouraged by the Department of Education and is tied to the transcript hold.
