

Are you active on Twitter or want to learn how?
Are you interested in cardiovascular research?
Are you a student, resident, or fellow at LCOM?

---

CVRI is seeking a social media specialist

to manage the scheduling and posting of social media content from CVRI and from journals edited by CVRI Directors, including Coronary Artery Disease and Research & Practice in Thrombosis & Haemostasis.

The successful candidate(s) will:

- Actively manage posting of news, events, papers, presentations, etc. using provided content
- Work with LCOM Communications Office to learn UVM social media protocols
- Post initially on Twitter, with possible expansion to other platforms
- Assist CVRI and the journals with formatting of content for optimal social media success
- Provide insights gained from responses/reactions to postings to CVRI board and journal editors
- Be CVRI's "go-to" for social media news and inform CVRI of platform changes/opportunities
- NEVER share personal opinions on CVRI and/or journal social media pages

CVRI will provide training in social media and a stipend.

The term of service is 1 year, which may be renewed by CVRI.

---

Application Process

Please submit a letter of interest and a copy of your CV via PDF by April 30 to:

CVRI-VT@med.uvm.edu