

BOARD CERTIFIED FAMILY PHYSICIANS

The Department of Family Medicine at the University of Vermont College of Medicine and The University of Vermont Medical Center is seeking board certified/eligible family physicians to join the full-time faculty. This appointment at the University of Vermont will be in the Clinical Scholar Pathway at the Assistant or Associate Professor level, commensurate with experience. The selected candidate will join a busy and collegial program. The position requires clinical focus and experience in the areas of maternity care, administrative leadership, and teaching. Priority will be given to applicants who have experience providing family medicine clinical services in an academic setting. Our faculty participates with teaching in our family medicine residency education program and our medical student educational programs. Our 6:6:6 residency program is fully accredited.

Our program supports academic and professional growth while affording excellent quality of life. Burlington, Vermont, provides an outstanding four-season family atmosphere. Children's Health Magazine recently ranked Burlington as the number one place in the United States to raise a family.

The University is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their teaching, scholarship and/or service; applicants are requested to include in their cover letter information about how they will further this goal. The University of Vermont is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Women, veterans, and people from diverse racial, ethnic and cultural backgrounds are encouraged to apply. Applications will be accepted until the positions are filled.

Applicants should send a letter of interest, CV, and contact information for three references to: susan.weber-flynn@uvm.edu, or apply online at <https://www.uvmjobs.com>. A review of applications will begin immediately.
