What is Mindfulness?

Mindfulness is the practice of being present in the moment, exercising awareness (of feelings, sensations, thoughts, sounds, smells ...) without judgement. It’s a state of being, and paying attention on purpose.

Research indicates that Mindfulness-based practices help improve the symptoms of stress, depression and anxiety.