

Although most of the youngest Vermonters are getting their shots, Immunization volume has dropped dramatically in other age groups.

The following information from the Vermont Immunization Registry provides insight into the effect of the Covid-19 situation on Vermont efforts to protect children against other vaccine preventable diseases like measles, pertussis, and hepatitis. For perspective, keep in mind that the stay at home directives began in mid-March.

Infants and Toddlers

Young Children

Pre-teens

Teenagers
