Seeking Clinical Practice Partners

FOOD INSECURITY MEASURE TESTING PROJECT

Quality Insights is recruiting three to four practices with patient populations that have risk factors for food insecurity to join our latest project. Consider collaborating with us in this effort that, among other things, provides appropriate clinical support to alleviate food insecurity. Specifically, this quality improvement project will focus on improving health and health outcomes by facilitating the reduction of the prevalence of food insecurity at the point of care. Below are details for this project.

Benefits of Participation:

• Receive assistance with collecting or extracting data for three food insecurity measures that may be implemented in future reporting programs
• Receive a honorarium payment of $4,500 for participating
• Provide insight into social determinants of health in the context of food insecurity
• Participate in creating new quality measures intended for use at the health plan level
• Create a foundation for your practice’s quality improvement efforts, as well as prepare your practice for future value-based payment models

Requirements to Participate:

• Designate an individual to act as the primary contact for Quality Insights
• Complete a Memorandum of Understanding and Business Associates Agreement
• Work with a patient population that could qualify for or is currently receiving food benefits such as WIC or SNAP
• Submit existing EHR data and complete a data collection period for three new quality measures
• Participate in a feasibility or workflow analysis regarding the current collection of food insecurity and provide follow-up or resources to address food insecurity
• Willing to provide prospective related to implementing workflow modifications to improve data collection and health outcomes related to food insecurity
• Report prevalence of food insecurity at the end of the project

Quality Insights requires completion of our Memorandum of Understanding and Business Associate Agreement for participation and payment. If you’re interested in participating, please email Quality Insights Measures Mailbox measures@qualityinsights.org

Publication Number CORP-91119-MM