Education	2011-2015 B.S.; Biological Sciences, University of Vermont, Burlington, VT 2015-2018 M.P.H.; Master of Public Health, University of Vermont, Burlington, VT
Research Interests/Areas of Interest	Throughout her schooling, Hannah has enjoyed learning about the health care field through different lenses, both biologically and from health promotion and health policy. Although she started in the lab as an undergraduate intern, she now manages grant administration and study recruitment, participation, and administrative needs for multiple projects occurring under the direction of Dr. Robert Althoff. Since 2016, she has been primarily involved in one of Dr. Althoff's research interests of suicide risk assessment in the health care setting.
