June 22nd

Randolph Noelle is Chief Scientific Officer for ImmuNext. He is an Endowed Professor of Microbiology and Immunology at the Geisel School of Medicine at Dartmouth. Randy’s laboratory discovered the natural CD40 ligand, CD154, and VISTA, a new checkpoint regulator. Over the past 6 years, ImmuNext has produced therapeutic monoclonal antibodies to VISTA and CD40L that have been licensed to Roche, Sanofi and JNJ. He has headed the design and analysis of numerous clinical trials. Randy earned his B.S. from the State University of New York at Stony Brook and his Ph.D. in Microbiology/Immunology from Albany Medical College of Union University.
