

The Department of Internal Medicine, Sidney Kimmel Medical College

Visiting Externship in Medicine for Underrepresented Minority Students in Medicine Applying to Internal Medicine Residency

This rotation provides an opportunity for underrepresented minority students to have a month-long clinical experience in the Department of Medicine at Jefferson where they can get to know the institution, department, and residency program. This opportunity is for students who anticipate applying for a residency in internal medicine. This rotation may be done in the months of June, July, August, or September.

Accepted applicants will be provided with a stipend that they may use to cover housing and/or transportation expenses.

Student Qualifications:

- Currently enrolled full-time 3rd year medical students in good academic standing at an LCME accredited medical school.
- Students must belong to a group currently considered underrepresented in medicine: Black/African American, Hispanic/Latino, Native American, Pacific Islander/Native Hawaiian
- Students must be planning to apply for residency in Internal Medicine

For more information and to apply, please visit our website:

<http://www.jefferson.edu/university/skmc/departments/medicine/residency/resident-resources.html>

The application deadline is May 12, 2017. Accepted students may be required to submit further documents required by the Sidney Kimmel Medical College Registrar's Office.

The Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University values a diverse and inclusive community as it allows us to achieve our missions in patient care, education, and research and best allows us to serve the healthcare needs of the public. SKMC is an Equal Opportunity and an Affirmative Action Employer and strongly encourages applications from women, those underrepresented in medicine, and Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT).