Research Interests/Areas of Interest

With a foundation as a nurse in an acute inpatient psychiatry setting for 11 years, Chelsea has her ANCC board certification in Psychiatric-Mental Health Nursing. In 2014, Chelsea obtained her MS in Mediation and Applied Conflict Studies and has consulted in healthcare settings to increase employee satisfaction and engagement by teaching strategies to engage with conflict. With an interest in how to improve the delivery of healthcare to children and families, Chelsea started working in quality improvement at Vermont Child Health Improvement Program (VCHIP) in 2019. Through Chelsea's work with VCHIP, Chelsea joined the VCCYF team in 2020 to provide support with quality improvement initiatives.
